The census keeps only presence flags, so it shows that India's lowest month had a C6 row for every in-universe security but almost none passed the certification test; it cannot say which component (spread, volatility or ADV) failed. India's Tier B monthly series has no return for 2009-10, the same month. Project documents of 2026-10-09 place India's minimum in January 2009; the committed census and series place it here.
